OC Continuing Education offering ‘Social Networking’ class

ODESSA (Oct. 8, 2009) – Odessa College Continuing Education will be offering a “Social Networking” class from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 27 and Tuesday, Nov. 3.

What’s the deal with Facebook, MySpace and Twitter? Find out in this one session course targeted for the beginner in social networking. Students will learn to create profiles, upload pictures, and navigate various social sites and more.

Social Networking can build a bridge between people far and wide, according to Lisa Cline, OC community service director.

“It can be a great tool for keeping in touch with friends and family, gaining a new learning experience or meeting new people,” she said.

The cost to attend the class is $45. Call Odessa College Continuing Education at 335-6580 to reserve your seat today.
