Odessa College cosmetology presents “Vogue X” fashion, hair show

ODESSA (April 22, 2010) – Odessa College cosmetology in conjunction with Angela Sanders, OC cosmetology student, will host “Vogue X,” a fashion and hair show at 4 p.m. Wednesday, May 5 at the Rudy Acosta Pavilion adjacent to the Wi-fi Java Cyber Cafe on the OC campus.

The event will highlight fashion and hairstyles through the decades. Sanders, inspired by the entire creative package of fashion and hair design, is the driving force behind the event with the help and support of the OC cosmetology department staff and faculty.

“In an industry where hair, makeup and fashion are so closely related, I wanted to challenge my fellow classmates to put their abilities to the test and decided to host a show where they could show off their talents,” Sanders said. “Plus, I am offering a week long, all expense paid trip to South Padre Island for the best design.”

“Vogue X” is free to attend and open to the public. Refreshments will be served, and DJ Bad Boy will provide music.

For more information please contact the OC cosmetology department at 335-6452.
