Odessa College – Ratings

- “AA/AA-” (Fitch/S&P) - The limited tax bond rating reflects the district's ample revenue-raising ability, sound expenditure flexibility, strong reserves, and limited historical revenue volatility. These factors combine to provide the district with a high level of operating flexibility and anticipated financial resilience throughout the economic cycle.
- “A+” (S&P) – The revenue bond rating reflects S&P’s view of the district's healthy full-accrual operating surpluses aided by favorable enrollment trends and state appropriation increases, coupled with improved revenue-debt only financial resource ratios.

Preliminary Plan of Finance – Revenue Bonds

New Money Bonds | Structuring and Bond Sale Assumptions*

New Money Revenue Bond Assumptions

- Odessa College (the “College”) has plans to construct a new Health Science Building (the “HSB”). Currently the cost of the HSB is estimated at $39.7MM.
- The College has dedicated $5,050,678 in institutional funds toward the project.
- The College has also been raising private donations for the HSB and currently has $1,021,500 in gifts in hand and $16,100,000 in grants and pledges that will be paid over multiple years.
- In order to move forward with the construction of the HSB, the College is planning to issue Consolidated Fund Revenue Bonds, Series 2021 (the “New Money Bonds”) with the intention of paying the debt service on the New Money Bonds with a combination of institutional resources and private donations.
- The preliminary analysis for the New Money Bonds is based on the following:
 - Assumes the College will generate a maximum of $35MM in project fund proceeds from the New Money Bonds for the HSB. The remaining $4.7MM will be provided from funds already on hand.
 - Assumes the New Money Bonds will be structured with a maximum maturity of 15-years and with annual payments that are greater than the ³⁶pledge payments projected to be received during the respective fiscal year.
 - Assumes the pricing of the New Money Bonds will be based on the College’s underlying rating of “A+” by S&P with enhancement from a bond insurance policy for an enhanced rating for “AA”.
 - Assumes the College will meet the debt service reserve requirement for the New Money Bonds with bond proceeds.
 - Assumes an initial interest payment on January 1, 2022 and an initial principal payment on July 1, 2022.
 - Assumes the New Money Bonds have a ten-year optional par call feature.
 - Assumes cost of issuance of $200,000 (preliminary) and underwriters’ discount of $7.00 per bond (preliminary).
 - Assumes cost for bond insurance premium is 0.45% of total debt service (preliminary, subject to change).
 - Assumes the preliminary numbers are based current market tax-exempt market rates as of May 4, 2021, plus 40 basis points (0.40%) (preliminary subject to change).
 - Assumes a pricing date of July 8, 2021 and a delivery date of August 4, 2021.

*Preliminary, subject to change.

Refunding Bonds | Advance Refunding Scenario*

Taxable Advance Refunding

The College's Consolidated Fund Revenue Bonds, Series 2012 have a call date of July 1, 2022. $4,420,000 of the outstanding principal can be advance refunded on a taxable basis for projected debt service savings.

Summary of Assumptions

- Assumes current market taxable rates as May 4, 2021 with a pricing date on the Consolidated Fund Revenue Refunding Bonds, Taxable Series 2021 (the "Refunding Bonds") in July 2021. (Subject to change.)
- Assumes the Refunding Bonds are sold with the following ratings: "A+" Underlying / "AA" Insured.
- Assumes the Refunding Bonds are sold with a standard 10-year optional par call.
- Assumes the College will contribute a portion of the debt service reserve from the Series 2012 Bonds to the refunding and assumes the College will fund the Refunding Bonds debt service requirement with bond proceeds.
- Assumes the Refunding Bonds deliver on August 4, 2021 with the first interest payment due on January 1, 2022.
- Assumes the Refunding Bonds are structured to provide uniform savings.
- Assumes the Refunding Bonds are sold concurrently with the New Money Bonds, taking advantage of some cost of issuance efficiencies.

Authorization | Bond Issuance Process

Authorization | Bond Issuance Process

- The strategy for effecting the sale of the New Money Bonds and the Refunding Bonds would be for the Board to authorize the Administration to move forward with the transactions given certain Board approved parameters are met. Those parameters are memorialized in a Resolution.
- The Resolution would authorize District administration (the President of Odessa College or the Chief Financial Officer) to approve the new Money Bonds and the Refunding Bonds and execute the necessary documents when the transaction terms have been set for each series of bonds, assuming the terms meet or exceed the stated parameters, respectively.
- The District has utilized a parameters order on refunding bonds in the past. This authorization method allows the District to proceed with preparing for the transaction on a schedule that can be responsive to market conditions, but that does not allow the transaction to be completed unless the stated and approved parameters are met or exceeded.
- The parameters for the New Money Bonds and the Refunding Bonds are listed below.

New Money Bond Parameters

1)	the aggregate principal amount of the New Money Bonds shall not exceed $35,000,000
2)	proceeds of the New Money Bonds may include funding a debt service reserve fund associated with the issuance of the New Money Bonds, if deemed in the best interest of the financing by the Pricing Officer, and to pay the costs of issuing the New Money Bonds;
3)	the sale price of the New Money Bonds shall be not less than 95% of the initial aggregate principal amount thereof plus accrued interest thereon, if any;
4)	the latest date for a stated maturity of the New Money Bonds shall not be later than July 1, 2036; and
5)	the true interest rate for the New Money Bonds as a series shall not exceed 4.00%.

Refunding Bond Parameters

1)	the aggregate principal amount of the Refunding Bonds shall not exceed $5,000,000;
2)	proceeds of the Refunding Bonds may include funding a debt service reserve fund associated with the issuance of the Refunding Bonds, if deemed in the best interest of the financing by the Pricing Officer, and to pay the costs of issuing the Refunding Bonds;
3)	the sale price of the Refunding Bonds shall be not less than 95% of the initial aggregate principal amount thereof plus accrued interest thereon, if any;
4)	the latest date for a stated maturity of the Refunding Bonds shall not be later than July 1, 2034;
5)	the true interest rate for the Refunding Bonds as a series shall not exceed 3.00%; and
6)	the refunding must produce net present value savings of at least 4.0%; calculated by netting out any issuer contribution and including back in additional proceeds that are generated by the refunding transaction.

This presentation was prepared exclusively for the benefit of and internal use by the recipient for the purpose of considering the transaction or transactions contemplated herein. This presentation is confidential and proprietary to RBC Capital Markets, LLC ("RBCCM") and may not be disclosed, reproduced, distributed or used for any other purpose by the recipient without RBCCM's express written consent.

By acceptance of these materials, and notwithstanding any other express or implied agreement, arrangement, or understanding to the contrary, RBCCM, its affiliates and the recipient agree that the recipient (and its employees, representatives, and other agents) may disclose to any and all persons, without limitation of any kind from the commencement of discussions, the tax treatment, structure or strategy of the transaction and any fact that may be relevant to understanding such treatment, structure or strategy, and all materials of any kind (including opinions or other tax analyses) that are provided to the recipient relating to such tax treatment, structure, or strategy.

The information and any analyses contained in this presentation are taken from, or based upon, information obtained from the recipient or from publicly available sources, the completeness and accuracy of which has not been independently verified, and cannot be assured by RBCCM. The information and any analyses in these materials reflect prevailing conditions and RBC CM's views as of this date, all of which are subject to change.

To the extent projections and financial analyses are set forth herein, they may be based on estimated financial performance prepared by or in consultation with the recipient and are intended only to suggest reasonable ranges of results. The printed presentation is incomplete without reference to the oral presentation or other written materials that supplement it.
