Course Description

Introduces terminology, and concepts and procedures used in financial accounting for sole proprietorships. The accounting cycle, including activities requiring students to analyze, record, and summarize data involved in preparation of financial statements, is covered. Other activities build on the accounting cycle as other topics- internal control; cash, payroll, receivables, payables, inventories, long-term assets and financial reporting issues- are studied. Learning activities are designed to allow students to integrate factual learning into problem-solving situations.
