Course Purpose: We will study three literary genres—short fiction, drama, and poetry—learning the literary elements that make up the three genres and how to write interpretive essays. We'll also study research techniques, including library and online research, correct attribution of sources and correct construction of a works cited page.

Prerequisites: English 1301

Scans: 1,2,9

Required Text:

- Literature: An Introduction of Fiction, Poetry and Drama. Eleventh Edition. Eds. X.J. Kennedy and Dana Gioia. Pearson.

Required Materials:

- Computer Access
- Journal
- Notebook

Learning Outcomes: Upon successful completion of this course students should be able to:

- Read, analyze and recognize characteristics of fiction, poetry and drama and identify essential details and facts in those works
- Demonstrate the ability to read assigned texts, and clearly articulate the findings of these critical interpretational analyses;
- Write analytical papers on one or more literary works in a given genre or genres
- Demonstrate an understanding of standard terminology to describe genres
- Summarize the essential elements of each genre and each literary selection in standard literary terminology
- Organize library research materials and other resources and write a literary research project or paper which demonstrates the proper use of quotations, citations, and a list of works cited.
- Demonstrate continuing mastery of conventional English
- Articulate ideas in well-organized, lucid prose that exhibits the application of the aforementioned skills.

Course Requirements:

- Two short essay papers 10% each for a total of 20%
- MLA format research paper 15%
- Three unit exams 10% each for a total of 30%
- 4 journal assignments 10%
- Attendance 5%
- Final 20%

GRADING STANDARDS FOR FORMAL WRITTEN WORK

(Including Short Answer/Essay Responses on Tests and Any Stand-Alone Writing Assignments)

“A” work: Excellent / outstanding / fluent / thought-provoking / original

Follows all instructions / addresses question asked, carefully organized, contains an effective thesis, fluent style, clear and concise writing, few if any mechanical errors, shows thought and analysis, present original insights, independent of the teacher / text, in-depth and detailed, goes well beyond what was expected

“B” work: Good / above average / clear / well-organized

Follows instructions / addressed question asked, contains a thesis, mechanical errors are not distracting to the reader, contains some detail, shows little thought or analysis, dependent upon information given by teacher / text

“C” work: Average / adequate / competent / fair / unoriginal

Follows most of the instructions / addresses most of the question asked, weak thesis, lacks clarity, mechanical errors are obvious but do not interfere with reader’s understanding of the work, little if no detail, thought or analysis; THIS IS AVERAGE WORK FOR ALL COLLEGE STUDENTS

“D” work: Below average / inadequate / ineffective / unclear / under-developed

Follows only the most basic assignment requirements / addresses question on a very general level, shows insufficient understanding of the material, significant mechanical errors make communication of ideas ineffective, no thesis, lacks organization

“F” work: Failure / blocked communication / plagiarism-cheating / major errors / illiteracy / directions not followed / badly underdeveloped

Instructions were not followed / question was not addressed, no thesis, no organization, mechanical errors make work unreadable and/or incapable of being understood, some or all of the contents were plagiarized, fails to address the given topic, no detail, thought, or analysis

Unit One-Fiction

- The genre of fiction will be discussed in class. Students will be assigned various readings that will show different elements of fiction such as point of view, plot, etc. Students will have an essay assigned where they will evaluate a particular author of their choice.

Unit two-Drama

- Students will read plays in class and the specific genre will be discussed. Videos of the plays will be shown so that students will get a better grasp on the plays. Students will have an essay assigned where they will evaluate a particular character in a play.

Unit three- Poetry

- Various poems will be read and discussed in class to help students grasp the literary terminology and concepts associated with poetry.

Unit four- Research

- Early in the semester, the major research project will be assigned. Throughout the semester students will complete journal assignments that will aid in the completion of the research paper. Students will learn how to accurately research and document sources, as well as, analyze and evaluate literature and literary concepts.

Final Exam

- The final exam will be an essay question exam. Students will be given a set of questions to study, from which three questions will be chosen for the final. A one page, formally written response will be required of each question.

Extra Credit: You will be given the opportunity to get creative. Choose one of the works that we read in class and make a back story or a different ending for the story. You have complete creative freedom here. The only rule is that it must pertain to the plot and characters of the story. This is a one time opportunity and will need to be handed in before the day of your final exam. I will add 5 points to your final grade before I average all of your grades.

Attendance and Late Work:

- After three weeks of absences (9 absences in a MWF and 6 in a TTH class), you will not be allowed to turn in late work.
- After three weeks of absences, I will not drop any minor assignments in averaging your final grade;
- If you are tardy, it is your responsibility to make sure that the absence is changed to a tardy. After class the absence will remain on my roll sheet.
- For everyone, no matter how many absences, I will deduct ten points per weekday for major essays turned in late;
- If you miss an exam, you will lose five points per weekday for each day you delay past the original test day. After one week, you forfeit the right to take the test and will receive a zero for that grade.
- Minor grades that depend on timeliness, like reading quizzes and classroom activities cannot be made up, meaning that if you are absent or late and miss a graded assignment, you must take a zero for that assignment. Other minor activities that are turned in and graded later can be turned in late, but will lose the same five points per weekday as major assignments and exams.

- No student can pass this course without completing the final exam. An incomplete will not automatically be granted if a student misses the final exam.

Plagiarism:

Plagiarism is defined as using someone else's words or ideas without attributing your source. Plagiarism also occurs if you copy off the internet. It's academic dishonesty, and if you plagiarize, you will receive a zero on the assignment, without the option of re-doing it.

Classroom Behavior:

- Arrive on time, and stay for the whole class period. Please do not schedule appointments during class.
- No social use of technology. Silence your cell phone during class. I will ask you to stop the first time. The second time you will be asked to leave the class.
- Bring your book, journal and a means to take notes to class. Please make sure that you have read the material assigned for that particular day.
- If you are absent, it is your responsibility to find out what you have missed and come to the next class prepared.

Computer:

You need to have access to at least two computers any time you take an online course or are going to be using a computer for work in a face-to-face course. If one computer breaks, gets a virus, or is incompatible with the course delivery system (OC uses Blackboard), you will still be held responsible for turning in any and all work by the given due dates and times.

Your instructor cannot arrange due dates/assignments around every student's computer, internet access, and/or work schedule. Do not expect to be given extensions on assignments or tests due to computer/internet access or work issues.

Be sure to verify your computer's compatibility with Blackboard prior to attempting to complete any work in any course. For help with Blackboard basics (logging in, what buttons mean/do, etc), go to <http://www.odessa.edu/blackboard.htm>.

New Law Pertaining to College Freshmen: Senate Bill 1231, passed by the 80th Texas Legislature, provides that, except for several specific instances of good cause, undergraduate students enrolling as first-time freshmen at a public institution of higher education in fall of 2007 or later will be limited to a total of six dropped courses during their entire undergraduate career.

Special Needs: Odessa College complies with Section 504 of the Vocational Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. If you have any special needs or issues pertaining to your access to and participation in this or any other class at Odessa College, please feel free to contact me to discuss your concerns. You may also call the Office of Disability services at 432-335-6861 to request assistance and accommodations.
