Course Objectives

1. Locate explicit textual information, draw complex inferences and describe, analyze, and evaluate the information within and across multiple texts of varying lengths
 - Students locate explicit textual information in the stated main idea, supporting details, and patterns of organization modules of MyReadingLab.
 - Students draw complex inferences in the implied main idea and inference modules of MyReadingLab.
 - Students describe, analyze, and evaluate information within and across multiple texts of varying lengths in the purpose and tone and critical thinking modules of MyReadingLab.
 - In lectures and cooperative learning assignments, students analyze current event articles using AVID strategies and by applying concepts taught in MyReadingLab.
2. Comprehend and use vocabulary effectively in oral communication, reading, and writing
 - Students demonstrate comprehension of 300 new vocabulary words.
 - Instruction is differentiated based on initial placement assessment.
 - Students analyze morphemes in words to determine meaning.
 - Students use context clues to learn the meaning of words (synonyms, antonyms, general context, and examples).
 - Students use dictionaries.
 - Students are required to use newly learned vocabulary in the culminating current event assignment.
3. Describe, analyze, and evaluate information within and across a range of texts.
 - Students identify patterns of organization in texts of varying lengths and then describe which pattern of organization the author is using.
 - Students analyze texts by identifying facts and opinions. Then students determine if the text is written inductively/deductively or objectively/subjectively.
 - Students evaluate the author's claim by determining whether the supports the author used are relevant, accurate, or contain bias.

4. Identify and analyze the audience, purpose, and message across a variety of texts.
 - Students identify whether a text is written to persuade, inform, or entertain.
 - Students analyze the main idea of each paragraph in a text, then determine the author's central point.
 - Students analyze author's claim to determine if it is credible by identifying examples of irrelevant arguments.
 - Students analyze author's claim to determine if it is accurate by identifying examples of inadequate arguments.
5. Describe and apply insights gained from reading a variety of texts
 - In the culminating current event project, students
 - Submit a formal written paper analyzing a scholarly article 4 or more pages in length.
 - Demonstrate use of dictionary by defining 10 words they do not know.
 - Identify examples of 10 patterns of organization.
 - Outline or map the major points in the article.
 - Summarize the article's central point, thesis, or claim.
 - Write at least two paragraphs summarizing major ideas in the article.
 - Use at least 10 transition words in their writing.
 - Use at least 10 of the vocabulary words learned this semester in their writing.
 - Analyze the article by
 - ♣ Identify the author's claim
 - ♣ Stating if the article is deductive or inductive
 - ♣ Stating whether the article is objective or subjective
 - ♣ Justify whether they think the author's claim was adequately supported by relevant supports

If you have a Pearson Education account from using Pearson resources, such as MyStudentSuccessLab or MyMathLab, in another class, sign in first. If you do not, create a new account at the link provided.

If you have any difficulty with the registration process, you must first go to Pearson Tech Support at <http://247.pearsoned.com>. If they are unable to assist you, I will need you to send me the incident number from your case so I can escalate the issue for you.

Expectations for Engagement – Face to Face Learning

To help make the learning experience fulfilling and rewarding, the following Expectations for Engagement provide the parameters for reasonable engagement between students and instructors for the learning environment. Students and instructors are welcome to exceed these requirements.

Reasonable Expectations of Engagement for Instructors

1. As an instructor, I understand the importance of clear, timely communication with my students. In order to maintain sufficient communication, I will
 - provided my contact information at the beginning of the syllabus;
 - respond to all messages in a timely manner through telephone, email, or next classroom contact; and,
 - notify students of any extended times that I will be unavailable and provide them with alternative contact information (for me or for my supervisor) in case of emergencies during the time I'm unavailable.
2. As an instructor, I understand that my students will work to the best of their abilities to fulfill the course requirements. In order to help them in this area, I will
 - provide clear information about grading policies and assignment requirements in the course syllabus, and
 - communicate any changes to assignments and/or to the course calendar to students as quickly as possible.
3. As an instructor, I understand that I need to provide regular, timely feedback to students about their performance in the course. To keep students informed about their progress, I will
 - return classroom activities and homework within one week of the due date and
 - provide grades for major assignments within 2 weeks of the due date or at least 3 days before the next major assignment is due, whichever comes first.

Reasonable Expectations of Engagement for Students

1. As a student, I understand that I am responsible for keeping up with the course. To help with this, I will
 - attend the course regularly and line up alternative transportation in case my primary means of transportation is unavailable;
 - recognize that the college provides free wi-fi, computer labs, and library resources during regular campus hours to help me with completing my assignments; and,
 - understand that my instructor does not have to accept my technical issues as a legitimate reason for late or missing work if my personal computer equipment or internet service is unreliable.

2. As a student, I understand that it is my responsibility to communicate quickly with the instructor any issue or emergency that will impact my involvement with or performance in the class. This includes, but is not limited to,
 - missing class when a major test is planned or a major assignment is due;
 - having trouble submitting assignments;
 - dealing with a traumatic personal event; and,
 - having my work or childcare schedule changed so that my classroom attendance is affected.

3. As a student, I understand that it is my responsibility to understand course material and requirements and to keep up with the course calendar. While my instructor is available for help and clarification, I will
 - seek out help from my instructor and/or from tutors;
 - ask questions if I don't understand; and,
 - attend class regularly to keep up with assignments and announcements.
